JAPANESE PLAN STEAM-ROLLER DRIVE

ANXIETY FELT FOR BRITISH MISSIONARIES

Taiyuanfu May Be Bombed Momentarily

Peiping, Nov. 7. Acute anxiety is felt for the safety of about twelve British missionaries who are presumed to be still in a Baptist Mission in Taiyuanfu which may be bombed and shelled at any moment. It will be recalled that the missionaries although warned by the British Consular authorities to leave Taiyuanfu early in the hostilities, chose to remain and were still at their posts at the time of the last advances. Taiyuanfu city is completely encircled by Japanese forces part of whom seized the North gate yesterday morning but a number of Chinese troops continue to hold out within its walls. Japanese aircraft this morning dropped 5,000 handbills inside the city demanding its surrender. Meanwhile military operations have been suspended.—Reuter.

HAVOC AMONG JAPANESE IN PINGYUAN

Wrought By Chinese Mobile Units

Tsinan, Nov. 7. Chinese mobile units wrought great havoc on the Japanese in Pingyuan, North Shantung by launching a sudden attack on the station of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway. Several Japanese officers and men were killed.

Another mobile unit rushed inside the city and killed Japanese soldiers in large numbers. The enemy was taken unawares. After the raid, the attackers left the town before the Japanese could rally their forces for a counter-attack.

The irregulars then camped at a point 15 miles South-west of Yuanping, waiting for an opportunity for another surprise attack.—International News Agency.

CHINESE SOLDIERS BURNED TO DEATH

Soochow, Nov. 7. More than 40 Chinese soldiers captured by Japanese at Chenchinai were roped together in groups of three and burnt to death with petroleum poured over them, according to a Chinese soldier who escaped.—Central News.

NAVY PUNISHES PRESS BOWLING

Capt. Whitmarsh Scores Undefeated Century
COMMDR. HAYTER'S LAST MATCH

The Press did well to hold the Navy to a draw in a friendly cricket match at King's Park yesterday, which commenced at noon and ended at 5.45. The Navy batted first and made light of the Scribes' bowling, which was much of a sameness with the exception of E. R. Ellis, a newcomer, who, however, was out of practice and could not do himself justice with his left-hand slow.

Capt. Whitmarsh made an almost unblemished century, remaining not out at the end, and with B. Smith (64) added over a hundred runs for the second wicket. The Navy eventually declared at 3.30 with the score reading 257 for four wickets. Comdr. R. G. B. Hayter, who was playing his last match in Hong Kong, made 40 in a very short time just before the declaration. Commander Hayter, who has been on the China Station for two or three terms, first came out in 1924, when he made a name for himself as an all-round cricketer.

For their escape from a heavy defeat the Press had chiefly to thank A. H. Rumsahn, who played steady and good cricket for his 22 runs, helping to put on about 60 for the second wicket, S. A. Gray, who showed a straight bat at a critical moment, and J. R. Luke and H. Brokenshire who defended pluckily at the end.

It was on the whole an enjoyable game and it is understood there will be a return match in a few weeks' time.

CHINESE TROOPS EVACUATE FROM POOTUNG: CIVILIANS HOMELESS

JAPANESE LAND FORMIDABLE FORCE OF TANKS AND MECHANISED UNITS

ESTABLISHMENT OF REFUGEE DISTRICT IN NANTAO

Shanghai, November 7: Chinese troops have evacuated from Pootung as the Japanese advance from Hangchow Bay has rendered their positions there untenable. Slipping out quietly during the night as their comrades did from Chapel the Chinese forces have withdrawn to avoid being caught in the pincers which the Japanese are trying to close from the north and south.

A Japanese vanguard crossed the Whangpoo River at a point southward of Sungkiang and it is estimated that there are now 30,000 Japanese troops between the south bank of the Whangpoo River near Sunkiang and Hangchow Bay where still further reinforcements are disembarking. Meanwhile, the Japanese have landed a formidable force of tanks and other mechanised units on the south side of Soochow Creek for a steam-roller drive when General Matsui, Commander of the Japanese Expeditionary Forces in North China, is expected to order as soon as the weather, which is now rainy, clears up.

The seriousness of the Chinese positions on the western front is generally recognised and it is felt that General Matsui's prediction that the Chinese troops will be cleared from the Shanghai area by November 10 will be inexorably fulfilled.

With the withdrawal of Chinese troops from Pootung, Chinese civilians, who cling to their homesteads despite the shelling and bombing, poured the whole day long across the river into the French Concession and the Settlement aboard sampans and junks. Carrying their humble possessions and drenched to the skin, the Chinese civilians landed homeless and miserable.—Reuter.

Shanghai, November 7: The Foreign and International Committee which is charged with establishing a refugee district in northern Nantao is busily perfecting details and the administration hope to make the special area effective within two days. The area will be policed by unarmoured Chinese police while no military groups will be allowed to operate within the district. When the plans are completed it is believed that the majority of the 100,000 refugees now encamped in the Settlement and French Concession will be placed in the area. Meanwhile, the Japanese reserve the right to occupy the zone when the Japanese troops take Nantao.—Reuter.

Peiping, November 7: Latest reports state that fighting is continuing in Taiyuanfu but no details are available. Yesterday's report of the capture of the city is apparently based on aerial reconnaissance. A Japanese force pursuing the Chinese from the vicinity of Taiyuanfu claims to have reached Taku thirty miles to south. Another Japanese force reports the capture of Taiyuanhsien, a town ten miles southwest of Taiyuanfu after sharp fighting.—Reuter.

WAR BOOTY FOR EXHIBITION

Kwelin, Nov. 7: Following the example of Hankow, Kwelin, capital of Kwangsi, will also hold an exhibition of booty captured from the Japanese in the present hostilities in Shanghai and North China.

A petition for the transport of a part of the booty to Kwelin for exhibition has been approved by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.—Central News.

Korean And Formosan Recruits

Shanghai Nov. 7: Two thousand Korean and Formosan recruits arrived here to-day to reinforce the Japanese troops. About 600 of them will be organised into "dare-to-die corps".—Central News.

BOXER STUDENTS To Be Sent To England

Nanking, Nov. 7: The Board of Trustees of the Commission for the Administration of the Sino-British Boxer Indemnity Fund has decided at a recent meeting to send another batch of 25 students to England to pursue advanced studies next spring. The students will be selected through competitive examinations.—Central News.

FIERCE BATTLE RAGES IN HANGCHOW BAY

Chinese Troops Rushed To Check Japanese

ALL-DAY AERIAL RAID ON RAILWAY LINE

Hangchow, November 7: The Chinese are making a desperate attempt to halt the advance of the Japanese forces which landed at Hangchow Bay by launching an enveloping attack from Tolin and Chapoo.

The Japanese who landed at Chuankungting have been halted by the Chinese at Hsintsangchui, where fierce fighting is in progress, whilst those who landed at Chinshantui and Tsaochinchen established contact at Hohuangti on the night of November 5 and attacked and took Changyenchien yesterday afternoon. Their vanguards have now reached Sungyinchien about four kilometres from the source of the Whangpoo River, where Chinese reinforcements have been rushed to check them.

A Japanese warship was hit by a Chinese shell at the stern and severely damaged during the artillery duel at Hangchow Bay yesterday morning.

More than 20 Japanese warships are understood to have taken part in the shelling of Chinese positions around the Bay, to which the Chinese batteries vigorously replied.

40 PLANES IN RAIDS

With the intention of disrupting communications to prevent the dispatch of Chinese reinforcements to Hangchow Bay, Japanese aircraft made a systematic bombing of the Shanghai-Hangchow Line and other strategic points around the Bay yesterday.

Over forty planes participated in the raids, which lasted from 7 o'clock in the morning to 7 o'clock in the evening. Among the places bombed were Kashiing, Kashiin, Changan, Hsiao-shan, Linping, Tunhsiang, Tsungteh, Shashih, Tangwuchen in the suburbs of Hangchow, Kengshanmen and Zakow stations at Hangchow, Chapoo and Pinghu.

Kashiing was raided three times. Twelve bombs were dropped at the railway station and one bomb at Tangshankou, the eastern gateway of the city, resulting in more than ten casualties.

DEMOLITION BOMB

During two raids on Kashiin more than 90 bombs were released on the railway station. Several bombs were aimed at a train loaded with wounded soldiers. Heavy casualties were believed to have resulted.

One heavy bomb of the demolition type was dropped at Linping, killing ten persons, wounding seventeen, and destroying many houses.

At Hangchow both the Kengshanmen and Zakow stations of the Shanghai-Hangchow Line, and Hangchow station of the Chekiang-Kiangsi Line, Chenghuangshan inside the city and the suburban town Tangwuchen were raided. Several bombs dropped at the Kengshanmen station caused the death of three persons, the injury of twelve and the destruction of eight houses. More than ten bombs were dropped in the vicinity of the Zakow station, demolishing over ten houses. Two bombs were dropped on the Hangchow station of the Chekiang-Kiangsi Line, resulting in the death of four persons and the injury of thirty.

The damage and casualties at Chapoo and Pinghu are not yet ascertained.—Central News.

FOREIGN DOCTOR VOLUNTEERS SERVICES

Medical Committee Honours Young Medico

To honour Dr. Leonard B. Greentree, who recently offered his services for war work to the International Medical Relief Committee, the Committee gave an informal tea party in the Chinese Merchants Club last Friday afternoon, and afforded members and helpers of the various groups working with the organization an opportunity to meet the young medico.

Dr. Greentree who studied in the medical school of the University of Louisville, did graduate work at Trouro, Indiana, New Orleans, and later was surgeon-in-charge of the hospital maintained by the Oriental Consolidated Mining Company, Hoku-chin, Korea, and visiting surgeon to the Moukden Medical School, Moukden, arrived in the Colony only a few days ago. It was his original intention to take up a post as ship's doctor, but realising the great need for men of his profession in China at the present time, he offered his services to the International Medical Relief Committee here, saying that he was prepared to go wherever they might wish to send him. The grateful Committee have arranged for Dr. Greentree's immediate departure by air for Hankow.

Following the tea, Dr. Arthur Woo, Chairman of the International Medical Relief Committee, gave a short address in which he thanked Dr. Greentree heartily for his generous offer, and wished him all luck both on his own behalf and that of the Committee. In reply, Dr. Greentree assured those present that he would do all in his power to further the cause for which the Committee is working.

A short film depicting the burning of the Chapel area in Shanghai then followed, and it is learned, is now on its way to America, being despatched by Clipper almost immediately after the showing.

Among those present at the tea were: Dr. C. Y. Wu, Sir Henry and Lady Pollock, Miss Z. D. M. Carter, Prof. Hsu Ti-shan, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dunbar, Mrs. D. M. Biggar, Dr. F. I. Tseung, Mrs. G. S. Costello, Mrs. S. Deacon, Mrs. A. Braude, Mrs. Simmonds, Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, Miss I. Lewis, Miss I. Williams, the Rev. J. R. Higgs, the Rev. J. D. MacLean, Mr. W. Poy, Miss Y. Young, Miss Annie Lee, Miss Rose Kwok, Mrs. Greaves, Mrs. A. Woo, Mr. Wole, Mr. A. H. Keane, and others.

MAN'S SAINTLY QUALITIES

Cathedral Sermon

The Rev. H. W. Baines preached the following sermon at St John's Cathedral yesterday morning:

1 Peter 2 v.—Ye also, as living stones, are built up a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God through Jesus Christ.

The cinema has been busy lately making saints. No films have a more instant appeal than the life story of a great man such as Louis Pasteur. Indeed, Hollywood has shown that it recognises the box-office value of holiness by its attempt to bring back to life the heroic memory of men and women like Livingstone, Florence Nightingale, Rothschild, and Louis Pasteur who were "sinking into oblivion."

In this work of restoration the cinema and stage and biographical literature have taken the place of the Church. Our own Church has canonised no saint since the fourteenth century. With certain rebellious exceptions who have forced their way through to general veneration, we in our Church have entertained no more energetic prayer for those who have lived heroically and died than that they might rest in peace.

There certainly is a wide-spread suggestion that sanctity is queer which has been fostered by some of the tests applied to those for whom it has been claimed, such as miracles of healing and physical incorruptibility. Here again the cinema has been doing something to redress the balance by showing in certain films the nobility of ordinary lives without exceptional advantages spent in normal conditions.

Let this be an introduction to the importance of keeping our saints days and especially of the celebration of All Saints. To do so shows that the list has not been closed but that a new volume is always being opened. The an-themes of praise at this season proclaim that God's sanctifying power has not been stayed but still flows brilliantly in taking the body of our low estate and making it like unto Christ's glorious Body.

To-morrow is appointed for the thankful remembrance of saints, martyrs, and doctors of the Church of England. Why should we not keep this festival with pride, to the achievement and glory are God's in ours? We are proclaiming what He has done, can do and will achieve with ordinary human stuff. We are not delving for mysterious and hysterical qualities but would acknowledge heroic piety which is the one true test of sanctity. Nobody wants to make first rate men into second rate saints; but if our own experience is true that the spirit and conduct of men and women whom we know,

FIREMAN FINDS SON, SLAIN

Rushing, with other firemen, to a conflagration on Kungping Road, which is in the Wayside District of the International Settlement, Lin Mei-tu, of the Hongkew Fire Station, was assigned to the task of searching for bodies believed to have been buried when a dwelling collapsed.

Lin found one body, that of a small boy. There was something strangely familiar about the badly burned face of the youth. Lin took a second look—and collapsed. The body was that of his own son. The youngster, while visiting his grandparents on August 15, was caught within the Japanese lines and was unable to get out. It is believed that he took refuge with other Chinese in an abandoned house.

At the mortuary in the International Settlement an examination of the body of the boy revealed two bullet wounds, either of which would have caused immediate death. Lin charges the Japanese military with the murder of his offspring.

doctors, aunts, explorers and charwomen: compel us to call them saints, than God's continuing grace is vindicated.

Consider a few names at random from recent reading, Arthur James Balfour, Edward Grey, Lord Halifax, Harold Williams, Francis Urquhart, Edward Stuart Talbot, Dick Sheppard, or again the multitude of names that will be in our own minds as we remember the fallen on Thursday and should we not do well to keep their memory fresh and respond to the summons of their memorial.

Practically, then, let us make and keep our own calendars, filling them with the names of our own kindred and friends now unseen but still ministering to us, keeping in memory those whose lives in friendship or in study have been for us beacon lights and let us pray as we approach this holy feast in which they join with us that rejoicing in their fellowship and following their good example in piety and heroism we may be partakers with them of God's heavenly kingdom.

Look at Your Skin

Skin Specialists declare that 80 out of every 100 women suffer from skin outbreaks, spots, pimples, blotches, and 'muddy' complexions UNNECESSARILY!

Ugly complexion faults are woman's most common enemy. Few escape. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them. Whilst others, due to consistent wrong treatment, cause the skin to become highly sensitive, coarse and blemished.

To make your skin clear and healthy, your complexion fresh and smooth, use Cuticura.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try Cuticura to-day. See how soon your skin improves, your complexion becomes smoother, more attractive than ever before.

FEELING OF OPTIMISM

China's Eminent Reasonable Attitude

Japan's Reply May Be A Categorical Negative

Brussels, Nov. 3. If all goes well the appeal of the Nineteen Powers to Japan will be in Tokyo to-morrow night.

This is a result of the rapid progress made this afternoon and to-night at the Brussels Conference in revising the draft of the letter to Japan which submitted by the Belgian delegation to the morning session.

There were amendments received this afternoon from Great Britain, United States, France and the Soviet. Italy has asked for an opportunity to consult its Government and has promised to submit an amendment by 9 a.m. to-morrow.

The drafting committee has therefore to meet at 9.15 a.m. and a full session of the conference will be held privately at 10.30 a.m. If, as is hoped, it will be possible to reach complete agreement, the memorandum will be telegraphed to the Belgian Ambassador in Tokyo by to-morrow afternoon for submission to the Japanese Government. Japan will be asked to reply as quickly as possible.

SPIRIT OF CONCILIATION
The British amendments were all textual in nature, while none of the others were of a nature likely to modify the general lines of the memorandum.

The United States submitted the most important amendment, which proposes to paraphrase the passage from President F. D. Roosevelt's speech at Chicago, without quoting the American President, pointing out that the conflict in the Far East is not exclusively the concern of China and Japan, but of interest to the whole world, and which it is the duty of all men of goodwill to circumscribe.

One of the French amendments calls for sympathetic reference to the good-will and spirit of conciliation shown by China.

A feeling of qualified optimism prevails in Conference circles, particularly among British and Americans, as a result of to-day's meetings, when there was more general participation in discussion and in which the British Dominions took a useful part.

Criticisms of certain passages of the memorandum to be sent to Japan were not hostile but generally constructive.

MOMENTOUS PROBLEM

If any delegation harboured the hope that the conference would select a small committee to remain behind while delegates went home it is felt that such hope for the moment has miscarried.

It has been noted, too, that the Chinese attitude was eminently reasonable and it is considered unlikely that Dr. Wellington Koo will insist upon any amendment calculated to wreck the memorandum.

It is certain that some sterile days must elapse before the Japanese reply is received. If Japan asks for details of the small committee which it is proposed shall offer its good offices in mediation, it is pointed out that this will possibly involve delay.

It is not clear, however, what will happen if Japan accepts the invitation, or, which is likelier, rejects the Powers' appeal. Japanese circles in Brussels make no secret of their conviction that the reply of the Japanese Government will be a very categorical negative. In that case the conference would be forced, naturally, to seek other sources for fulfilling its mission and to find a specific solution to the Far Eastern problem.

Meanwhile, the announcement that the Advisory Committee of Twenty-three has been tentatively summoned for November 21. This is a reminder that if the Conference fails at Brussels, the League has yet to have its say in this momentous problem.

MINORITY POLICY

German-Polish Relations

Berlin, Nov. 6.

The new principles laid down by Germany and Poland regarding minority policy in their respective countries deserve thorough attention abroad," says the semi-official "Diplomatic-Political Correspondence" in an article on the agreement concluded between Berlin and Warsaw yesterday on treatment of minorities.

The journal says that the League of Nations was hardly anywhere able to achieve a satisfactory settlement of the minority problem, while Germany, not being a member of the Geneva institution, has once more successfully demonstrated that with the goodwill of those directly concerned, practical solutions can be reached in this field of vital importance for harmony among nations.

"That tackling of this problem needs a considerable amount of goodwill on both sides, is shown by the contents of the present declarations.

"This willingness to continue on the road of understanding and good neighbourship, finds its expression also in the determination that these relations shall not be disturbed by agitation over the Danzig question."

DIRECT UNDERSTANDING
While Herr Hitler was receiving in Berlin three representatives of the Polish minority, President Mosicki was receiving three representatives of the German minority in Warsaw.

Herr Hitler also received the Polish Ambassador, Joseph Lipski, with whom he had a long talk.

Herr Hitler, it is reported, told the Ambassador that Danzig would not be allowed to interfere in friendly Germano-Polish relations.

A statement issued later said that the new agreement proved that the Germano-Polish declaration of January 21, 1936, providing for direct understanding, continued to be productive of good results.

Main clauses of the new agreement, spoken of in Berlin and Warsaw as an important contribution to European peace, are:

Forbidding of any attempt to assimilate minorities.

Granting to minorities free use of their language, the right to form organisations, to maintain schools, and to have church services in their own language, and

Providing that they will not be hindered in their profession or in acquisition of real estate.

Spanish Government Resistance

Has Reached Its Final Stage

London, Nov. 6.

Some considerable stir has been caused by the announcement that negotiations are being conducted by the British Government with General Franco for an exchange of consular representatives.

One section of the press attributes this step to the fact that the British Government realises that the Republican Government is doomed within a comparatively short time.

This seems to be borne out, say the papers, by the transfer of the Government from Valencia to Barcelona.

"Spanish Government resistance has reached its final stage," says the "Daily Express," and Britain has no intention of being left holding the baby."

FASCISM VERSUS COMMUNISM

FULL TEXT

Rome, Nov. 6.

The protocol declaring Italy's adhesion to the anti-Comintern Pact, is worded as follows:

Germany, Italy and Japan, recognising that the Communist International continues to endanger the civilised world in the West and East, and to disturb and destroy peace and order there, are convinced that only close co-operation of all States interested in the maintenance of peace and order can remove this danger.

Recognising that Italy, which since the creation of the Fascist Party fought this peril with unflinching determination, suppressing the Communist International on its territory, has decided to join Germany and Japan which likewise are animated by the same firm will to defend themselves against the Communist International—in a fight against the common enemy, have, in accordance with Article 2 of the anti-Comintern Pact concluded by Germany and Japan in Berlin on November 25 last year, agreed as follows:

FOUR ARTICLES

Article 1. Italy adheres to the anti-Comintern Pact and the supplementary protocol signed by Germany and Japan on November 23, 1936.

Article 2. The three signatories of the present protocol agree that Italy is to be regarded as one of the original signatories of the Pact and the supplementary protocol referred to in the preceding article, whereby the signature of the present protocol is to be deemed equivalent to the signature of the original text and supplementary protocol of the afore-mentioned Pact.

Article 3. The present protocol is to be deemed an integral part of the aforementioned Pact and supplementary protocol.

Article 4. The present protocol becomes effective, on the date of signature.

BETTER REFUGEE SITUATION

John Earl Baker, chairman of the China Famine Relief Commission, has accepted the post of director of the Shanghai International Red Cross, an organization which since its inception early in October has performed invaluable relief work, particularly among wounded Chinese soldiers.
Increased co-ordination among various philanthropic organizations in Shanghai in their relief efforts for war refugees and wounded soldiers is being vigorously pressed by the Shanghai International Red Cross, the affairs of which are directed by some of the best-known and most prominent Chinese and foreign residents of Shanghai.

With a view to eliminating duplication and promoting better co-operation in handling certain phases of the local refugee situation, the Shanghai International Red Cross has organized subcommittees to look after the different branches of the work.

Shirley Temple surpasses all her previous screen achievements in "We'll Winkie," now playing at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres.

KIPLING'S HERO NOW ON SCREEN

Khyber Pass, in the land of the Bengal Lancers. The last untamed frontier of a great empire! Raging tribesmen, highlanders in plaid, cracking rifles and a little girl who wins the right to wear the colour of the regiment! The picture is Rudyard Kipling's "We'll Winkie" and the little girl is Shirley Temple—with Victor McLaglen as the valiant sergeant.

All the reckless heroism and thrilling action... all the laughter and heart-break, the battle and adventure, the courage and romance that came from Rudyard Kipling's heroic pen is in this picture. It's a story as colourful as India's jeweled and brazen hues... as strange as the skirling bagpipes on the roof of Asia... as fierce and bold as the prose of Kipling.

You'll see in this picture a Shirley Temple whose power to stir your emotions will be the wonder of your life... a Victor McLaglen whose performance as the gruffest, toughest and bravest of the troops who hold Khyber Pass will stand alongside his many notable screen characterizations... as sparkling with such favourite people as C. Aubrey Smith and Cesar Romero and Constance Collier and Douglas Scott.

"We'll Winkie" is showing at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

"Girls Can Play"

Presented by an impressive cast, headed by Freddie Bartholomew, Spencer Tracy, Lionel Barrymore and Melvyn Douglas Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen version of Kipling's "Captains Courageous" opens to-day at the King's Theatre.

Coming from the studio that has given to the world such a powerful epic of the sea as "Mutiny on the Bounty," this Kipling masterpiece attains even greater heights in its visual and audible treatment.

M-G-M acquired a sturdy Gloucester schooner off the Grand Banks, with her weather-beaten master and crew, sailed her down through the Panama Canal to the Pacific and there made the battered vessel a movie star. But first they shot tremendously impressive sequences on the Atlantic from Newfoundland down to the West Indies.

Freddie Bartholomew crowns his brilliant young career in the role of the rich American boy who is swept from the deck of a liner in gale off the Grand Banks, rescued by a fishing crew, and trained to the life of the hardy men of the sea. Spencer Tracy, as the Portuguese fisherman, gives an extraordinary performance as Captain Disko, skipper of the schooner, "We're Here."

"Captains Courageous" on the screen reflects the power of Kipling in its effective beauty, presenting the story as he described it and giving life to the amazing characters he created.

STOLEN HOLIDAY

Moments of sheer beauty contrast vividly with moments of the tensest sort of dramatic suspense in "Stolen Holiday," the new First National romantic drama which opened to highly-pleased audiences yesterday at the Majestic Theatre.

The picture stars Kay Francis, whose "Give Me Your Heart" and "The White Angel" are still fresh in the memories of her multitude of admirers. This lovely dark favourite seems to be advancing with each production.

This time Miss Francis appears first as an obscure little mannequin in a tiny Parisian modiste shop, with ambitions to become the greatest couturiere in the world.

The romantic interest in "Stolen Holiday" is provided by Ian Hunter, the handsome young British actor who played in "The White Angel" with Miss Francis. He portrays a young English diplomat with whom the glamorous Kay falls in love.

Allison Skipworth, veteran character comedienne, is an old dresser who stays with the rising Kay throughout her career.

Laglen whose performance as the gruffest, toughest and bravest of the troops who hold Khyber Pass will stand alongside his many notable screen characterizations... as sparkling with such favourite people as C. Aubrey Smith and Cesar Romero and Constance Collier and Douglas Scott.

"We'll Winkie" is showing at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

Chinese Boy Scouts are rendering invaluable aid although most are still only in their early teens. The shell-hole in the building which is situated on the Nantao Bund was caused by Japanese artillery.

CHILD WELFARE GROUP TO OPEN REFUGEE CAMPS IN NORTH CHINA

The National Child Welfare Association of China which has been doing local relief work in caring for the children of war-torn areas will also extend its activities to North China.

Special war relief committees conducting relief work for children rendered homeless by hostilities have been formed in Sian, capital of Shensi, also in Chengchow and Loyang, both cities in Honan province, according to radiograms recently received from Mr. T. S. Chen, associate general-secretary of the association in Chengchow.

Thirteen relief camps have been established with the help of local authorities and voluntary organizations since Mr. Chen was sent four months ago to Szechwan and Kansu to conduct famine relief work for destitute children.

There, more than 10,000 refugees came to Chengchow from Peiping and Tientsin, most of them being younger refugees. About 30 children who lost their families in the hostilities have already been registered and sent to the Child Welfare Institution in Loyang for care.

Another relief camp has been established to care for unclaimed children from the areas around Shanghai in the Chin-Yeh Vocational School here. A baby refugee camp is also maintained in the Community Church, and seventeen babies, whose ages range from three months to two years, have so far been registered. An executive member of the association is in charge of the work, assisted by two volunteer doctors and five trained nurses.

The Shanghai Tramways Company, owners of the tramcar which was wrecked by one Japanese bomb, are understood to have lodged a protest with the British consular authorities and also to have requested the Japanese Government to pay for the damages.

Jerusalem, Nov. 6. A British police mobile force was ambushed along the route between Jerusalem and Bethlehem. Shots were exchanged between the police and an Arab party but the former suffered no casualties.

BACK FROM THE FRONT

The tragic state of affairs in most of the Shanghai emergency hospitals in which medical supplies, accommodation and in some cases even food, were insufficient, was stressed by Dr. L. Sung, who returned from Shanghai yesterday by the s.s. Conte Verde. Dr. Li was one of the members of the first group of local doctors to volunteer for service in the North.

According to this doctor, the best equipped war hospital is the 23rd, which is managed by a Belgian doctor, assisted by four Chinese doctors returned from Belgium, but in most cases there is urgent need of medical supplies and chloroform. Dr. Li added that it was remarkable, and an exceedingly bright feature of this dismal war to see girls of well-to-do families, who had previous to the outbreak of hostilities probably never done a stroke of work, coming forward and eagerly volunteering to help at the various hospitals.

MILITARY ALLIANCE

To Be Signed Between Turkey And Greece.

Athens, Nov. 6.

A military alliance is to be signed between Turkey and Greece, says an announcement here to-day. Both Greece and Turkey are countries bordering on the Aegean Sea, the communication between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea, while the Sea of Marmara, entirely surrounded by Turkish territory, lies between the Black Sea and the Aegean Sea.

Draft of the treaty said to have been made on the occasion of the first visit to Ankara, the Turkish capital, of the Greek Premier, General Metaxas.

The treaty is to include the army and navy of both countries, and experts are already preparing reports.

Duration of the treaty will probably be ten years, and signature will be effected in about two months' time.

VALUABLES STOLEN

Gold and jade cuff-links, and other ornaments all to a total of $745 were reported missing from No. 459, Parker Road, first floor, the residence of Mrs. Florence Gallather. The police are in search of a man who was seen in a room adjacent to Mrs. Gallather's room by a house boy. The thief, it is believed, told the house boy to be quiet while he was making his get-away.

The house boy, however, was frightened and locked himself in a room till the thief had disappeared.

HONG KONG, NOVEMBER 7, 1937.

KEEP ON KEEPING ON

We recognise that it is mighty easy to give advice "from the back seat," but there appears to us to be a very detrimental proclivity on the part of not a few people to remark, in view of the recent happenings along a section of the war front, "I told you so." They mean by that, presumably, that they always realised that Japan would advance and that China would retreat. They forgot, however, that there is such a feature in the science of warfare known as the strategic retreat, and instances are not lacking to prove that tactics of this nature have been the means of achieving ultimate victory.

It is not, however, with the technical aspect that we are concerned. As a layman we shun the role of "back seat driver." But when it comes to a matter of assessing what may be termed the spiritual values of the Sino-Japanese conflict, then we claim we have every justification for offering opinions and criticisms which, we most sincerely trust will be accepted in that spirit of sincerity in which they are given.

Whatever our Chinese contemporaries may elect to do in the matter of policy and news features is certainly their own affair, and we would not, of course, presume to offer either advice or criticism. The vernacular Press would resent that just as much as we would if our Chinese brethren of the Inky Way started a campaign designed to alter our editorial or news policies. However, whilst admitting their capabilities and whilst recognising their right to fill their pages as they deem most fitting to the present occasion, yet we would be guilty of moral cowardice if we did not clearly and definitely state it as our considered opinion that it is directly attributable to the over-enthusiastic patriotism of the Chinese Press that so many people are unnecessarily despondent in the face of the regular and understandable tactics being adopted by the Chinese military command which have entailed certain technical retreats in the Shanghai sector. There is all the difference in the world between a retreat and a rout. Apparently there is some confusion on that point, with the regrettable result that many people are adopting that defeatist "I told you so" attitude. The plain fact is that there has been an injudicious disposition throughout the Chinese Press to create the impression that the Chinese armies were sweeping everything before them. We had a striking personal instance of this type of misapplied enthusiasm for the cause of China.

We were in Canton when a Japanese raid commenced shortly after eight in the morning and finished shortly after two in the afternoon. Nothing of a serious nature was done to Canton itself during that raid, though some damage was done to the railway line running north, and bombs were dropped in the vicinity of Whampoa. That evening when we reached Hong Kong, a Chinese friend bought one of the vernacular newspapers in which great prominence was given to "the magnificent Chinese

If Gossip We Must

(BY PENELOPE)

In the course of Penelope's wanderings to and fro last week, keeping a sensitive ear attuned to all gossip as usual, she chanced to hear some remarks passed in connection with the forthcoming variety concert in aid of war relief in North China which is to be held at the Queen's Theatre on November 17, and it seems that the most enticing plans are afoot, giving rise to hopes of promising things to come.

Readers, who have been conscientiously scanning our columns this past week, already know some of the details, but Penelope is willing to bet that they know only the barest facts, and nothing of what she has since heard and is all a-dither to pass on.

PRODUCER

For instance, she learned that the busy-bee who is producing the show is none other than Ann Bachara, or to use her married name under which she is known in Hong Kong, Mrs. Ann Ellis.

As Ann Bachara, Mrs. Ellis is well-known in Shanghai's singing circles, possessing a remarkably nice lyric soprano voice, and gained much of her experience in America when she was engaged in radio, stage and film work. In the latter instance she appeared in "Don't Bet On Love" with Hong Kong's Wendy Barrie, who incidentally, was instrumental in introducing Mrs. Ellis to the screen. Attractive and versatile, audiences can expect much from a show produced under her able direction.

It seems a pity that in the forthcoming variety performance Mrs. Ellis has chosen to work backstage only, but Penelope hears it is to be a performance given solely by a group of clever amateurs. At any rate Mrs. Ellis will have her hands full seeing that everything goes off with a swing.

DAUGHTER TO PERFORM

However, her daughter Delle is in the cast, and from what is known of her, Penelope wouldn't be in the least surprised if she taps her way into the hearts of Hong Kong audiences as she did with Shanghai and audiences in other places in the Far East.

Like her mother, Delle showed a marked liking for the stage from a very tender age. She has that natural ease before audiences which characterises a born public performer. Plus talent and under the able tuition of a well-known American instructor of stage dancing, Delle shows every promise of becoming a future professional. In Shanghai, she once stole a performance from professionals. This was last year and Delle was the only amateur in the entire cast, but that didn't prevent her from walking off with a fair share of the night's laurels.

In Tsingtao, she had occasion to perform at the Edgewater Mansions on several occasions; and was affectionately acclaimed there as the nearest approach this side of the globe to America's juvenile screen sensation, Shirley Temple.

MORE TALENT

That though enticing in itself, "s by no means all. There are heaps of other clever amateurs in the cast, some whose names have been heard so often that one is easily inclined to err in linking them with professional performers.

There is Mr. Gus D'Aquino, for instance, whose name is cropping up in programmes so regularly of late, that it is hard to think of him in anything but a professional capacity. He will sing several ballads and light arias in that pleasant tenor voice which has charmed so many audiences of late.

Great mystery surrounds a certain performer called Steppin-Fetchit, and he is not to be confused with the screen actor of that name. All Penelope was able to glean about this artist is that he is likely to prove quite a sensation. His particular talents lie in the direction of being able to do some very amusing and intricate tap-dancing routines.

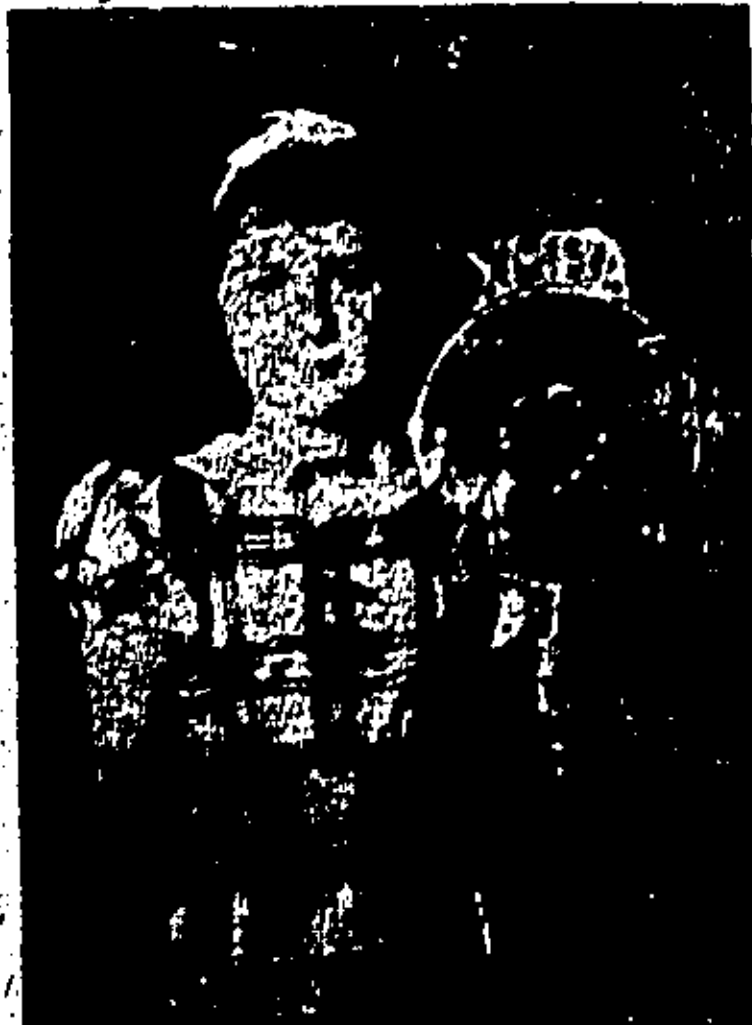

Add to this the names of Mr. A. A. Simpson and Mr. J. Grenham who will be seen in a comedy sketch, the Misses Stella Best and Peggy Scotcher, clever pupils of Goncharoff's Dancing Academy, the Misses Dorothy and Beale Wong, Miss Agnes Rocha and the Moana Boys and the public have a performance which has all the earmarks of being a real theatrical treat all amateurs.

SETTINGS

Two elaborate stage settings are among other things being planned. One, so Penelope hears, is to be a colourful scene of

THE IMPERIAL TRAGEDY

November 7, 1937.

Having studied the situation closely, we venture to give it as our considered opinion that what Japan wants is not the friendship of China, upon whom she looks down as an inferior race, but the man power of China for the inevitable struggle between herself and Russia that she foresees as coming at no distant date. Nothing would please the doughy Nipponese better than to see China disintegrated so that she would become the paramount power in the Far East with the rest of the mainland outside of those countries controlled by white Powers trembling at her every nod.

The breaking up of China would enable her to set up a number of puppet states which she could gobble up in a leisurely way when they became ripe. In this way she hopes, to oppose to Russia the inexhaustible manpower of China and the resources of the provinces under her domination so that win or lose, the brunt and cost of the conflict would be borne by other than her nationals and her treasury.

As Soviet Russia is a more difficult proposition than Czarist Russia, and as in her heart of hearts she realises that she would be unable to cope, single-handed, with the well-equipped and disciplined millions which her northern antagonist would be putting into the field, Japan must strive with all her might and main to smash all the power of attack that China might be able to muster against that inevitable day of reckoning between herself and Russia.

To defeat Japan in her cherished object, China should prolong the struggle as much as possible in the hope of either frustrating her in her vile object or, failing that, to weaken her to such an extent financially and in munitions of war that Russia, sooner than most people imagine, may pounce upon her in her exhausted state, and do that before she will have had time to recover and replenish her depleted stocks—both in terms of man power and war materials.

The time is ripe. Japan's miscalculations have landed her in the proverbial quicksand of China. She should retreat, but she cannot. She must feel her position so keenly that her exasperation is maddening her.

What a "curtain" to the Imperial tragedy.

Victory in this particular raid. Our Chinese friend, like ourselves, regarded this misrepresentation more in sorrow than in anger. When it is remembered that the raid lasted for six hours and that not one Japanese raider was brought down, to describe the encounter as a "victory" is, to say the least, an example of handling the truth somewhat carelessly.

Now, on a section of the front, the Chinese are strategically retreating, and the facts are so well-known through the commendably frank communiques from the Chinese headquarters that even a strategic retreat cannot be converted into a technical advance, and the result is that some people, thousands of miles from the front lines, are showing slight signs of becoming faint-hearted.

Such an attitude is unworthy and unjustifiable.

When China decided to make a determined stand for her sovereign rights, it was stated in very definite terms by the Generalissimo and the other leaders of the nation, that the struggle would be long and arduous, demanding the utmost in unswerving loyalty and unstinted self-sacrifice. Never in any of his statements has the Generalissimo underestimated the gravity of the situation or the strength of the enemy. It is now the time to remember what that great leader has said, for the time has arrived when China has to nerve herself to keep on keeping on.

There will be retreats and further retreats in the course of events, but if the spirit of the people of China continues strong and if they continue to be true to themselves, then there can be no doubt as to the result. Therefore, it were well if from now onwards the Press, which has a grave responsibility to the nation as well as to itself, were to guard against the building-up of false hopes. Let the facts stand revealed in the merciless limelight of publicity. China has nothing to fear: she has nothing to hide. She has the leaders, the numbers, the equipment and, above all, she has the righteous cause which must triumph in the long run over brute force and imperialistic aggression.

Remember the "Doomed Battalion" and keep on keeping on!

tern pact which Italy signed today, Count Ciano stated that there

Marshall) out of the race, the first pony paid $46.20 for a win while Llanarmon returned its backers $35.70 for a place bet!

The race was marred by an unfortunate accident to the favourite, Racing Heart, which appeared to go lame just as it was passing the Press Box for the first time. Mr. Proulx immediately dismounted and led the pony back to the stable.

Saucy Face set the pace for the race but it only could keep this up till the home stretch when it was overtaken by Australian Boy who was well-riden by Mr. Tao. Nearing the finish Saucy Face had to fight hard to stave off Llanarmon who was third, only a short head behind.

SUB-GRIFFIN ST. LEGER

Mr. S. C. Liang, on Gordito, rode one of his best races at the Valley when he won the Sub-Griffin St. Leger by four lengths from Shipmaster (Mr. D. Black) who was the same distance in front of Coronation Day (Mr. B. L. Tao).

There was nothing very much in the race—the first two ponies leading all the way but Mr. Tao kept Coronation Day right behind until the field entered the home stretch when he gave the chestnut its head and the animal finished strongly to take third position.

Tiny Star (Mr. N. Deitz) only managed third place in the Norfolk Handicap when Plain View (Mr. H. C. Pih) won by a short-head from Laughing Girl (Mr. S. C. Liang) to pay $32.40 for a win. Incidentally, the second pony paid $32.00 for a place bet.

There was nothing very much in the race till the field reached the Distance Post and it was then anybody's but Plain View had that much in him to finish winner with the other two fighting neck and neck for second place. Valorous (Mr. Y. T. Fung) was a very good fourth.

SURREY HANDICAP

The Surrey Handicap only attracted five starters and the race provided no thrills except for a brief moment towards the finish when it appeared as though Bear Claw (Mr. S. L. Yuen) might pip the favourite King's Warden, with Mr. S. C. Liang up.

Wild Life (Mr. D. Black) who ran very promisingly throughout the race, finished third with Cossack's Beauty and Soldier of Britain finishing in the order named.

The closest race of the meeting was seen in the Sussex Handicap when Potentate (Mr. N. Deitz) and King's Coronation (Mr. B. A. Proulx) dead-heated with Havoc Eye (Mr. F. Marshall) filling the third position.
It was a very fine race with the field bunched together all the way and it was not till about 100 yards from home that the winners drew away from the rest of the field.

FREMANTLE ST. LEGER

The Fremantle St. Leger provided Gypsy Love (Mr. B. L. Tao) with a fine win over Lancashire Chips (Mr. B. A. Proulx) while the only other pony in the race was Strathcarrick (Mr. D. Black). Home Brew, with Mr. W. H. S. Davis on the saddle, refused to start.

Strathcarrick set a scorching pace for three parts of the race but it could not keep up the tremendous pace and when the field passed the Rock for the second time Gypsy Love and Lancashire Chips both passed her and there was no further change in the order of the field.

Vira took the lead from the start and never relaxing she finished full of running. Boolat Bay and Amberley had a good struggle for second place but in the last fifty yards Mr. Black's mount proved stronger and finished a length-and-a-half ahead of the third pony.

The same order obtained when the field came into the straight but when the Distance Post was reached Tabby Cat (Mr. B. L. Tao) forged steadily ahead and fifty yards from home it went in to the lead to keep it till the Post. Meanwhile Yum Sing (Mr. W. C. Poy) and Racing Boy (Mr. S. C. No. 77 SET

BETTER VALUE THAN EVER

The Gillette No. 77 Set illustrated here, which contains the finest Gillette razor, three Blue Gillette slotted blades and two blade holders in a new type of moulded box, has these definite advantages.

The razor is made in two pieces instead of three, as formerly, thus making it easier and quicker to clean, assemble and use. The blades are made by the new electrical-tempering process. They give not only closer, cleaner shaves than you have ever had before, but also more shaves per blade.

The case is ideal for hot and humid climates as it is so easy to keep clean.

Ask your dealer to show you a No. 77 Set—one of the most popular that Gillette have ever made.

RESTRICTED USE OF COPPER

Tokyo, Nov. 8.
Restricted use of copper and manufacture of cotton yarn are two further developments on the Japanese economic front, announced to-day.

Use of copper is to be restricted in building purposes all over the country, says a decree of the Ministry of Commerce, while restricting manufacture of cotton yarn to 300,000 bales a month—the subject of a resolution passed by the Japanese Cotton Spinners' Association.

The Association is also planning establishment of a raw cotton company in North China for the purpose of cultivating and exporting raw cotton from this area.—Reuter.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

Associated Mines, Inc., has $477,500 in cash as of June 30, 1937, besides other assets and properties and uncollected subscriptions to the amount of $115,645 according to the annual report of Manuel Arroyo, president and general manager. Mr. Arroyo stated in his report to the stockholders that the corporation has hired the services of J. M. Kamantigue, as vice president; Enrique Ostrera, as supervising and consulting engineer; Dr. Jose P. Javier, resident physician; and Bienvenido Garcia as resident mining engineer for the Zambales property.

The firm's mining engineer after the examination of the Cabangan, Zambales property has recommended to the management that a compressor of 360 cubic-foot capacity; two liners and mounting complete with air and water hose; two jackhammers and mounting complete with air and water hose; one machine, drill sharpener and forge furnace; and one 8-kilowatt electrical unit complete be purchased to expedite the exploration of the mines. The engineer further stated that these machines are of sufficient capacity to continue the work rapidly and efficiently.

Paracale-Mapalad Mining Company, Inc., reports that the application for listing of its stock on the International Stock Exchange has been approved by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Pomeroy C. Merrill, mining engineer, stated in his report to the board of directors that the development work in the mines has been concentrated on determining the continuity and value of the veins already found and discovering more veins. Eleven tunnels of 415 lineal feet and 25 trenches of 558 cubic meters have been done in the development on the three groups of the company's property.

Assay results taken from the various sections of the mines show high values. The engineer recommended that a shaft be timbered and extended as deep as possible with hand methods into bed rock and then a short crosscut be driven northeast and southwest to find the extension of the vein.

SOOCHOW CREEK BRIDGED

Japanese Make Good Headway

Shanghai, Nov. 6. The war situation in the Shanghai area appears to be developing critically for the Chinese, and it is estimated that the Japanese have, or soon will have, at least 200,000 troops in the Shanghai area.

It is officially claimed by Japanese headquarters that the vanguard of the Japanese troops who landed in Hangchow Bay, have reached the southern bank of the Whangpoo River, four miles from Sunghiang, which is the first major objective of the new drive.

Meanwhile, Japanese troops on the western Shanghai front have at last succeeded in building a bridge over Soochow Creek, capable of carrying tanks and other mechanized units.

Japanese circles are now confident that the Chinese forces, both in Pootung and on the western front, will be forced to withdraw within a week.

If so, the new Japanese line would stretch roughly sixty miles from Chapoo to Lihoo.

Japanese landings in Hangchow Bay were effected at three main points, with troops newly arrived from Japan.—Reuter.

PROVISIONAL UNIVERSITY OPENS AT SIAM NOV. 15
 Siam, Nov. 6. The provisional university for Chinese students from the war zones will be formally opened here on November 15. It was announced today. More than 400 university students have enrolled.—Central News.

ese Cotton Millowners' Association place the number of Chinese mill hands employed by Chinese, Japanese and foreign cotton mills here 118,881 at the end of March, 1937.

"It must be noted," the report added, "that this number includes only those employed by the larger cotton mills."

Recalling that the number of Chinese unemployed totalled 610,701, as announced by the Chinese branch of the International Labour Office before the commencement of hostilities, the report opined that the number of Chinese now seeking jobs must reach 750,000.

The report added that the figure would "top 1,000,000 if those unemployed workers who left Shanghai for their country homes were included."

Referring to relief measures taken by the Shanghai municipal authorities to ease the situation, at least with regard to the operation of cotton mills, the report pointed out that in September, proprietors were urged to open cotton and flour mills located in the western district of Shanghai.

CHINA WAR NEWS

CHINESE LINES SOUTH OF CREEK STILL INTACT

Shanghai, Nov. 6. Despite the heavy bombardment from the air by Japanese bombers and several infantry attacks during the early hours of this morning, the Chinese positions along the south bank of Soochow Creek remain intact. Chinese military headquarters announced to-night.

Chinese artillery continued heavy shelling of the Japanese positions at Wuchiao and Tingtuchen where the situation is claimed to be "developing satisfactory" for the Chinese.

Five hundred Japanese launched a drive westward at Luchiao at 2 o'clock this morning but were driven back after a three-hour battle with over 100 casualties. Another Japanese unit moving south attacked Pellungchiao, covering the crossing of the creek of 200 Japanese troops. Fierce fighting at close-range broke out shortly after daybreak but the invaders were unable to make any substantial progress.

Kuchiao is being firmly held by the Chinese who have strengthened their defences between Chuchiao and Tientuchai.

Japanese reinforcements are concentrating at Wutungmiao on the Chenju-Nanzhang Highway where a number of tanks have also been assembled.

Another battle is also going on in the vicinity of Hsinchai where the Japanese early this morning launched an offensive on the Chinese positions.—Central News.

ANTI-FOREIGN PUBLICATIONS FOUND IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Nov. 6. A number of anti-foreign and anti-Facit pamphlets, alleged to have been published by a Japanese posing as a member of the Kuomintang at a small printing shop on Chapoo Road in the Hongkew District, have just been discovered in Shanghai.

The publications attached the names of well-known Chinese publishing houses, such as the Commercial Press.

The texts of these pamphlets, it is learned, charges the Kuomintang with instigating anti-foreign and anti-Facit movements in China and urge the people to study communism.

It is claimed in responsible Chinese circles that such publications are being circulated with the intention of blaming the Kuomintang and justifying the Japanese military movement to protect Japanese nationals and property in China.

The Central authorities, it is learned, has ordered the suppression of such pamphlets and to prevent their circulation.—Central News.

TRACKS ON C.K.R. BADLY DAMAGED DURING TWO RAIDS TO-DAY

Canton, Nov. 6. A number of sections of the rails near Cheungmuktau, Tongtowha and Shekshan were badly damaged to-day during the course of two Japanese aerial raids along the Canton-Railway, according to details received here to-night.

Three planes flying from Tongkawan were sighted heading for the railway at 8.40 this morning. The machines released seven bombs along the line between Cheungmuktau and Tongtowha. The second attack occurred at 2.25 in the afternoon, four bombs being released, destroying over 200 feet of rail near Shekshan.

The morning express from Kowloon arrived here two hours and 10 minutes behind schedule.—Central News.

CANTON NATIONAL SALVATION ASSOCIATION

Canton, Nov. 6. Ninety-nine committee members of the Canton Peoples National Salvation Association were formally sworn into office at a special meeting held here this morning.

Following the ceremonies, the association addressed a telegram to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek at Nanking commending him for his admirable leadership and the strong stand of the Chinese forces at the Shanghai-Woosung front. The members pledged unflinching support to the Generalissimo in the campaign against the Japanese.

Another cable was sent to the Nine-Power Conference at Brussels appealing to the participating delegates to uphold international justice and the spirit of the Nine-Power Treaty.

A third message was addressed to Chinese Overseas abroad expressing deep appreciation for the material support given to the Government in the present campaign.—Central News.

KASHAN, CHEKIANG TOWN, HEAVILY BOMBED

Hanchow, Nov. 6. Further details of the Japanese attack along the Chekiang coast yesterday reveal that Kashan was heavily bombed by a fleet of Japanese planes. Twenty missiles exploded in the town, wrecking scores of houses. An investigation is being continued by the authorities.

It is now disclosed that more than 20 Japanese warships took part in the shelling of the Chinese positions along the Chekiang coast in the vicinity of Chapoo. The Chinese are rushing further reinforcements to the coast to prevent the Japanese from landing marines.—Central News.

SHANGHAI UNEMPLOYMENT ON THE INCREASE

Although normal conditions are gradually being restored in Shanghai, the invasion of this country by the Japanese armed forces and the subsequent hostilities have resulted in unemployment, for several hundreds of thousands of persons, chiefly Chinese, the plight of the majority being serious.

The constant shelling and bombing of Pootung, for instance, with its huge factories and warehouses, normally employing a large number of persons, has brought about the closure of all of these establishments and loss of jobs for the employees.

In the Wayside and Yangtzepoo districts, Japanese possession and control of the districts prohibits the resumption of business on the part of the many Chinese and foreign industrial plants. The cotton and silk mills of these districts alone employ countless thousands of persons, many of them being women and girls.

The Chinese Government, the Municipal Government of Greater Shanghai, and various relief organizations are doing all within their power to alleviate the sufferings of these unemployed persons, but the task is gigantic. Foreigners, too, are lending assistance.

In the cases of workers who were employed in the areas mentioned, and who resided in those districts, their plight is indeed a sorry one, not only losing their employment but also being driven from their homes by the Japanese invaders who occupy all of Wayside and the greater part of Yangtzepoo. In many instances the homes of the workers have been destroyed by shells, fire or bombs. Thousands have been forced to seek the city's refugee camps. Others are living in the streets.

OFFICIAL STATISTICS

According to statistics issued by the Central Investigation Board on Factories, in 1935, the report said, the total number of Chinese workers in Shanghai was placed at 309,750, this figure "representing the majority of the Chinese workers in the Republic."

The report pointed out further that figures released by the Chin-

Waikiki, in which the Moana Boys, the Wong sisters and Miss Agnes Roena will be featured. The other, which is still under consideration and subject to change, will depict an artist's studio with Mr. Gus D'Aquino as the central figure and possibly Mrs. Ellis will pose as a model, gowned, so it is said, in an elaborate period costume. If it is decided to include the scene as suggested, it will have a pantomime-like touch.

SARTORIAL PARADE

Further details coming to light include a showing of the latest Parisian trends by Madame Chiffon. This item should prove a drawing card to all women who are in the slightest degree mode-conscious, and what woman isn't?

An advance showing of the models to be displayed could not be arranged, as both Madame Chiffon and a bevy of attractive Hong Kong ladies, who will act as models, are now in the throes of feverish activity, preparing for the event. Penelope was able to discover the names of at least four of the mannequins, however, and they are Mrs. P. Delaney, Mrs. B. Mischaux, Miss H. Gerrard and Miss Mary McMillen.

This in itself lends a strong inducement to make early reservations for the show.

MUSICAL FUNCTION

And now Penelope will digress and talk of matters social. Last night, the Corner House, Kai Tak, residence of that popular host Mr. Li Chor-chi, was the scene of another informal musical evening.

Following the success of his last function, Mr. Li again invited the same artists to perform, and all with the exception of Mrs. Roet, whose absence owing to indisposition was regretted, were there to charm. Mr. Gus D'Aquino delighted with songs. Mr. Benito Lopez with violin solos. Maestro Gualdi with piano accompaniment and selections, and last but not least the host himself obliged with two songs.

There were some twelve guests present, among whom were Col. Crawford Jones, Major and Mrs. C. Eccles, Flight Lieutenant Wallace, Mr. A. Campbell, Miss Nora Flint, Mrs. Arline Lee and Capt. Chopra.

FUTURE EVENT

Of the events planned for the future, Penelope learns that patients of the British Military Hospital are to be entertained with a concert given by Colonel Crawford Jones on Wednesday.

Musical items will be provided by Mrs. Leo Roet, Maestro Gualdi, Mr. Gus D'Aquino and Mr. Li Chor-chi. Cocktails are to follow afterwards.

PRESENTATION OF COLOURS TO ROVERS

An impressive Scout Parade service was held in St. Andrew's Church yesterday evening when Colours were presented to the Rovers. The Colours were given by some of the ladies of the congregation. The Vicar, Rev. J. R. Higgs, delivered the sermon at yesterday's service.

H.K. ART CLUB EXHIBITION

The Hong Kong Art Club will hold its Annual Exhibition on the 8th floor of the Gloucester Building on November 17 and 18. At this exhibition there will be 200 pictures on show representing the year's best work of leading local artists. The exhibition will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on both days.

CRITICISING GERMAN FOREIGN POLICY

Berlin, Nov. 8. An alleged indiscretion by the aged General Ludendorff has led to publication of an official Government Statement.

General Ludendorff, it had been reported in the foreign press, had written to "a certain personality" abroad criticising German foreign policy, especially Germany's friendly relations with "a certain Power," and attacking events in Spain.

The communique states that after enquiries instituted with the assistance of the foreign Power in question, it had been proved that General Ludendorff's alleged letter was a forgery, and that the General had never expressed the views attributed to him.

Kowloon Bazaar Success

At one corner of the vacant ground there was erected a stand which displayed many beautiful hand-made articles.

At another corner there many Christmas gifts, unique in design and appearance.

There were also games with prizes worth winning. Music and brilliant illumination last night added much to the gaiety of the bazaar.

This 'Al Fresco Fete' is the chief income of the Society which helps throughout the year thousands of poor families and helpless cases in the Colony. The stall owners were all voluntary workers from the different Catholic Association of Hong Kong.

The following is the list of some of the most prominent stalls:

St. Teresa's Chinese Young Men which had a great variety of games with excellent prizes. Ricci Hall, Sham Shui Po Catholic Association, Little Flower Club, Mrs. Triggs, St. Mary's Chinese Young Ladies Association, St. Teresa's C.Y.L.A., St. Joan of Arc C.Y.L.A. and an Association of British Ladies who catered for tea.

IT NEVER RUNS SMOOTH

London, November 7. The old proverb of the course of true love never running smooth seems to have been borne out once again.

This time the disappointed ones are Valerie Brooke, 21-year-old daughter of the White Rajah of Sarawak, and Robert Gregory, 25-year-old all-in wrestler.

The couple's engagement was announced in London at the beginning of the month, both parties admitting that they had parental difficulties to overcome.

Now they appear to have struck another snag, following the prospective bridegroom's failure to obtain a special license.

UNSUCCESSFUL CHASE Gregory dashed to Liverpool overnight after he had appeared in the ring in a wrestling match in London last night, to obtain a special license to marry Miss Brooke.

After a wild chase round the Lancashire city in the early hours, Gregory's search proved unsuccessful, and the marriage has been postponed for some weeks.

Valerie's elder sister, Elizabeth Brooke, popularly known as "Princess Pearl," married Harry Roy, the dance band leader, reportedly after opposition by the Rajah and Rane.

FAMOUS ACTOR PASSES

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson

London, Nov. 7. The death has occurred of Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, the famous actor-manager.

Born in 1853, the son of the actor, John Forbes-Robertson, the late Sir Johnston was educated at Charterhouse, and became an actor at the age of 21. He subsequently became leading actor at Bancroft's and Hare's theatres, and in 1898 formed his own company. In the course of his active career, he had the distinction of playing under three reigns.
